

Exemption from repayment of emergency small amount funds and general support funds (special loans)

If you meet the requirements set by the government, you will be exempt from repayment of loans. The procedures for repayment exemption in FY2023 can be applied if both you (the borrower) and the head of your household are exempt from taxation for both the municipal tax per-capita rate and income tax for FY2023. Please carefully read this explanation to find out if you are eligible for repayment exemption and what you need to do to become exempt from repayment, then carry out the necessary procedures.

1 Please confirm the type of funds you used

Type of funds	Borrowing term	Maximum loan amount
Emergency small amount funds		200,000 yen
First time general support funds	Months 1-3	Single-person household: 150,000 yen/month
General support funds extension*	Months 4-6	Multiple-person household: 200,000 yen/month

* Here, "extension" refers to extending the term of a first-time loan (continuing to use the support funds). Extensions were accepted from July 2020 to June 2021.

2 Amount of repayment exemption

Emergency small amount funds or first-time general support funds applied for and borrowed

in or after April 2022

General support funds extension

Full amount remaining

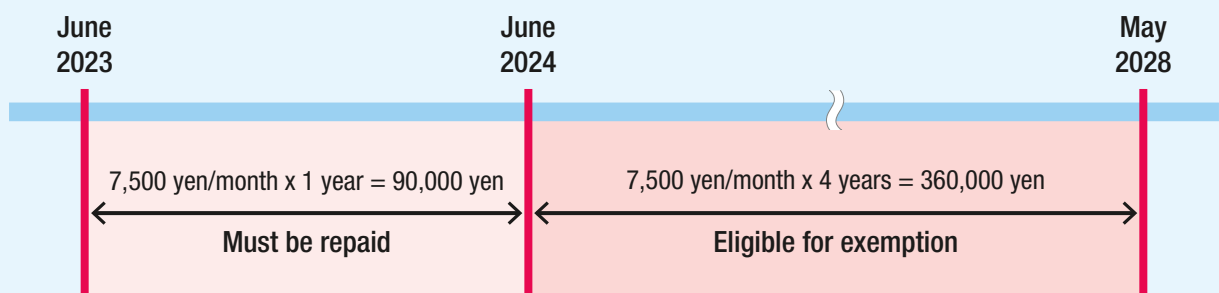

Emergency small amount funds or first-time general support funds to be repaid between January and December 2023

Amount scheduled for repayment after the 13th month

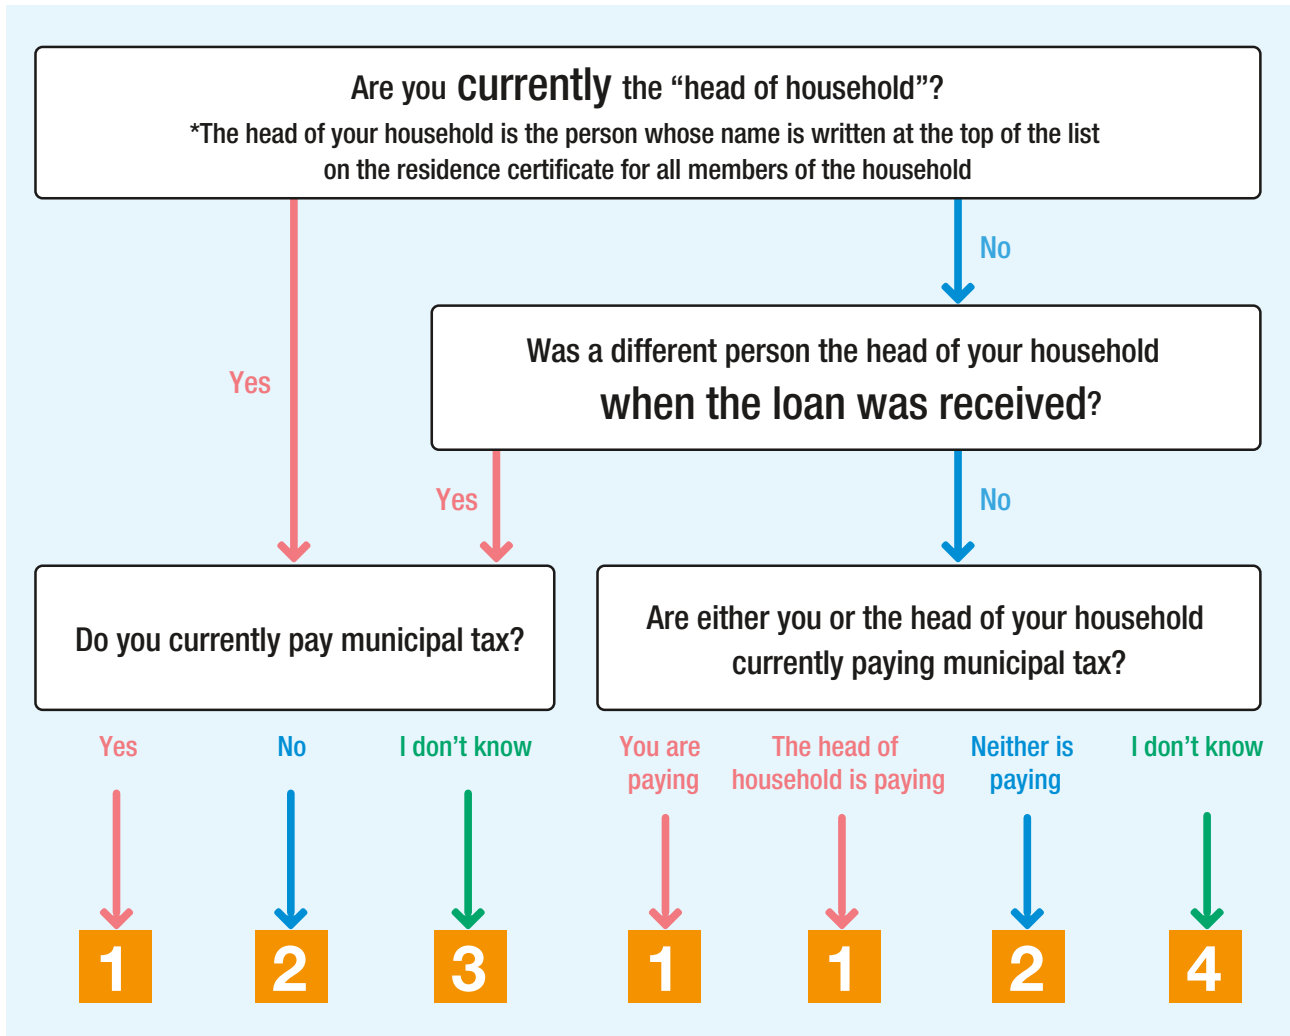

Example 1: Schedule for repayment of first time general support funds in the amount of 600,000 yen over 10 years, starting in January 2023

Example 2: Schedule for repayment of first time general support funds in the amount of 450,000 yen over 5 years, starting in June 2023
